CONFERENCE HIGHLIGHTS

NAFC's 2010 conference will offer "tracks". Each participant can choose to attend all workshops in a track of interest, or choose to attend workshops from different tracks. For example, Track 1 will be held in Room 1 and all subjects presented in that room will pertain to sex offenders (counseling, addictions, management, assessment, etc.) You can choose to attend all workshops in Room 1 for all days, or you can, as always, pick different workshops to attend throughout the conference...the choice is yours.

Tracks will focus on providing forensic counselors, domestic violence counselors, mental health and addiction professionals, sex offender treatment providers, probation officers, parole agents, and all criminal justice professions with the skills and knowledge to meet the complex demands of effectively treating offenders, domestic violence perpetrators and victims, child abusers, sex offenders, sociopaths, juvenile offenders, co-occurring disorders, psychiatric disorders, chemical dependency, child custody evaluations, forensic evaluations, and much more. The conference schedule and current conference information will be mailed to you when you register. They are also available on NAFC's official website, www.nationalafc.com or by contacting NAFC at 260-426-7234.
